MARCH 12, 2013 | CHARLOTTE, NC – Violinist Adele Anthony will perform the Brahms Violin Concerto with the Charlotte Symphony this weekend, replacing Augustin Dumay who was forced to withdraw due to injury.

An alumnus of New York's Julliard School, Australian-American Adele Anthony enjoys an acclaimed and expanding international career, performing as a soloist with orchestras in North America, Europe, Australia, India, and Asia.

Under the baton of Charlotte Symphony Music Director Christopher Warren-Green, Anthony and the orchestra will open the program with Johannes Brahms' Violin Concerto. After intermission the orchestra will present Dmitri Shostakovich's Symphony No. 5

The concerts will take place as scheduled this Friday, March 15, and Saturday, March 16 at 8 p.m. at the Belk Theater. The informative pre-concert Musically Speaking chat will begin at 7 p.m., and the informal Musically Speaking Talk-Back will begin immediately after the concert ends.

Tickets start at $23.50 and can be purchased through the Charlotte Symphony ticket office at 704-972-2000 or online at www.charlottesymphony.org.
