CHARLOTTE SYMPHONY KICKS BACK WITH NEW BREWERY SERIES

OCTOBER 24, 2016 | CHARLOTTE, NC – Grab a cold one and kick back with the Charlotte Symphony at On Tap, a new casual series in partnership with NoDa Brewing Company.

Assistant Conductor Christopher James Lees will lead all three performances at 2921 N. Tryon St., beginning Tuesday, November 29 at 6:30 p.m., followed by two events next year.

“This series is going to be so much fun,” says Charlotte Symphony President and CEO Mary A. Deissler. “We are always looking for ways to bring the orchestra out of uptown and into our community to play in alternative spaces. The partnership with NoDa is a great addition.”

The small ensemble will play a variety of selections from Bach and Copland to Jimi Hendrix, and NoDa Brewing will create a specialty beer for each of the events. Meet orchestra musicians during the break between sets and after the concert.

General admission tickets are $10 at the door and include one beer and a pint glass koozie.

Future On Tap dates are scheduled for January 31 and April 25, 2017.

About the Charlotte Symphony

Founded in 1932 and led by internationally renowned Music Director Christopher Warren-Green, the Charlotte Symphony is a non-profit organization that serves the community through music that educates, entertains, and enriches the human spirit. We are musicians, music teachers, and music lovers. We put violins in the hands of Charlotte's children and actively nurture the next generation with our music education and outreach programs. The Charlotte Symphony is a cornerstone of the cultural community, unifying people and adding value to their lives through music.
