ABOUT THE CHARLOTTE SYMPHONY

Led by internationally renowned Music Director Christopher Warren-Green, the Charlotte Symphony is the largest performing arts organization in the region, supporting 60 full-time musicians in a 37-week season. Core programming includes concerts in our Classical, Pops, and Family series.

As part of our commitment to serve the entire region, the CSO performs everywhere from parks and schools to breweries and senior care centers. We passionately believe that music, accessible to all and experienced in many forms, unifies and enriches our entire community. We are deeply committed to our focus on diversity, equity and inclusion, and look to every aspect of the organization, from our mainstage concerts to our community and education work, to reflect this commitment.

We actively nurture the next generation of musicians and music lovers through our youth education programs. We support two signature programs for young people. Project Harmony, in partnership with Arts+, is a music and leadership program aimed at expanding the vision of what's possible in the lives of area youth, serving nearly 200 children in East, West and Southwest Charlotte. The Charlotte Symphony Youth Orchestras offers extraordinary music education in pursuit of musical excellence. Our Youth Orchestras are inclusive, diverse and accessible to all students, regardless of financial resources.

We are fully focused on equality and believe deeply in diversity of race, gender, sexual orientation, religion, ethnicity, national origin and all the other fascinating characteristics that make us different.
